

VotingforJudges.org

An information resource for Washington voters

VotingforJudges is an award-winning, nonpartisan, impartial source of information about judicial elections in the state of Washington. The site was established in 2006 to provide information to voters in connection with the judicial candidates running for election that year.

Our archives retain information from the 2006 through 2009 elections. We are now reporting on Washington's 2010 elections.
